Expectations

Our e-Learning structure includes (1) virtual face-to-face instruction via Google Meets, (2) Independent Learn@Home learning using the packet-base curriculum, and (3) Independent online coursework. Teachers will meet with students in the Advisory Google Classroom at 8:00 AM and 12:00 PM mirroring our Friday's Learn@Home structure. Teachers will provide specific guidance and directions to students for how to navigate their school schedule and receive academic support.

- Students should check in with their advisor via Google Meets at 8:00AM (AM cohort) and 12:00PM (PM cohort).
- Students have packet-based curriculum and an assigned school Chromebook to access online curriculum and should complete from home based on assignment due.
- Attendance will be taken for ALL students, based on their access to this learning modalities on an eLearning day.

The eLearning schedule will be posted and available in each teachers Google Classroom and on the website (learn4lifearcharleston.org) for ease of access to students and parents.

Access to the Google Classroom - ALL students are assigned a Chromebook upon enrollment and should use the assigned technology device to access the Google Classroom platform. Google Classroom is easily accessed from the single sign-on via student Clever page. Students are expected to join the Google Classroom and will also receive an invite from their teacher. Students can access instructions, messages, live video/chat meetings and resources through Google Classroom. Google Classroom can also be accessed on any internet-ready device.

Communication

Students and parents will be notified via phone, text and email blast using School Messenger, our communications systems, daily announcements board in Power School. School Closing information will also be posted on local news outlet – Channel 5 News. Please call the school’s main office at 843-666-6362, if you have questions or concerns.

Staff Contact Information (phone number and emails) can be found at <https://learn4lifearcharleston.org/meet-the-staff/>. Additionally, Google Classroom codes can be found HERE.

Troubleshooting

If students have technology issues with their Chromebook, there are several ways to get support.

- Log on to Google Classroom using a cell phone device or other internet ready device.
- Call your advisory teacher - <https://learn4lifearcharleston.org/meet-the-staff/>. If you are not about to reach a teacher, please call the front desk 843-666-6362, someone will be on-call to answer the main phone line.
- Submit a helpdesk ticket to the technology department by emailing help@llac.org. Describe the issue you are having, and someone will respond to you within 24 hours.
- [Insert here fixes for common issues with LMS, applications, and/or devices or a link where the information can be found. Include contact information for additional help. You may additionally wish to include a protocol for IT issues that starts with the teacher and moves up to more specialized personnel with descriptions of the types of support that could be expected at each level.]

Special Programs

All teachers and educational aides are pre-scheduled for online instructional time during eLearning Days. This will allow students to access instructional support in every content area to provide academic support to all students. Additionally, behavior support and school counselor are available to provide assistance to students who need SEL support.

Students with disabilities (IEP/504/EL) will receive educational service time via online instruction, or teleservices by providers (OT, PT, Psych) during eLearning Days, and will continue to receive accommodations from their general education teacher using the online Google Meets and Google Classroom platforms. Any services not rendered, due to power outage, etc., will be rescheduled for the first date available on the provider’s schedule.

CTE students attending the Dorchester County Career and Technical Center (DCCTC) for CTE programming are not required to attend during designated eLearning Days at Learn4Life High School-Charleston. If DCCTC is still in session, the student participants attendance will not count against them. Parents and students will have discretion to attend the program on eLearning days, if DCCTC is open, but would not be required because we provide daily primary transportation to the partner site.

Use of eLearning Days Reporting

[List the dates on which eLearning days were used for the 2025-2026 school year along with short descriptions of the reason an eLearning day was enacted.

See the following examples that might be on a 2024-2025 report:

Ex. 8/9/2024 - Tropical Storm Debby threatened unsafe conditions for travel.

Ex. 10/14/2024 - School closed for Tropical storm Debby on 8/9/2024. Weather makeup day was enacted as eLearning.

Please note this section will be asked for after the 2025-2026 school year.]
